SOCIAL JUSTICE STUDIES: CHICANO STUDIES, ASSOCIATE IN ARTS FOR TRANSFER

The Associate in Arts in Social Justice: Chicano Studies for Transfer (SJS: Chicano Studies AA-T) degree is intended to meet the minimum requirements for admission to a California State University (CSU) Bachelor of Arts Degree program in Chicana and Chicano Studies, Mexican American Studies, Chicano and Latino Studies, or a related field. The degree provides students with a foundational set of preparatory courses designed to maximize their transfer success as they pursue a degree in Chicana and Chicano Studies, Mexican American Studies, Chicano and Latino Studies, or a related field. The degree is an interdisciplinary academic program of study that deepens students' comprehension and awareness of how race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, national origin, gender, and sexual orientation intersect with the experiences of Chicanas/Chicanos and Latinas/Latinos. Students will learn how to communicate ideas and think critically, as well as how to navigate increasingly diversified communities as culturally competent citizens. Common career opportunities with a baccalaureate degree include teaching, counseling, careers in law, journalism, marketing, community and housing development, cultural arts, political advocacy, and social work. Students must complete the Associate Degree for Transfer requirements to earn the AA-T degree.

Upon successful completion of the program, students will be able to:

- Explain and apply the major theories related to the experiences of the Chicano and Latino people, as well as the history of the Chicano and Latino people in the United States.
- Analyze and explain the fundamental theories, terminology, and concepts that comprise the interdisciplinary disciplines of Chicano and Latino studies.
- Describe and critically evaluate social justice theories, as well as the history of Chicano and Latino social activism, community organizing and political participation.
