

FRENCH LANGUAGE, ASSOCIATE IN ARTS

The French Language program at Monterey Peninsula College teaches the language using the well-recognized communicative approach, which emphasizes meaningful conversational interaction, direct work with authentic texts in the target language, linguistic competence with non-native, near-native and native speakers, and an awareness of French and francophone cultures. The Associate in Arts in French Language program is designed for students who wish to acquire verbal and written language proficiency and cultural competence. The French Language AA serves students who plan to pursue a career or further degrees in French education: language, linguistics, or literature, and/or other related fields, such as anthropology, archeology, art history, global/international studies, marketing, nursing philosophy, politics, and translation. Given Monterey's status as an international travel destination, an AA in French Language can enhance opportunities for students interested in careers on the Peninsula in service industries, such as hospitality and restauration, or in localization and translation fields.
